School Conference Yester-

As the outcome of action taken immediately before the evening session of the conference of Sunday school workers held in the Hedding Methodist church last evening, Barre will entertain the Vermont State Sunday School associa-tion on the occasion of its annual meeting, which is to be held in this city October 23, 24, and 25. Rev. H. A. Durfee of Burlington presided at this business session and Henry H. Jackson acted as the secretary. Committees are to be appointed to proceed with arrange ments for the annual meeting and from now on no pains will be spared to make the association's annual gathering a signal success. It is expected that some thing definite in the way of a program will be announced within a short time. Other important business at the session included the formation of the Sunday school district of Barre, with C. S Andrews as president and Mrs. E. J Batchelder as secretary and treasurer This action is the result of the workers tour of Washington county, which had for its chief aim the systematic distribution of Sunday school work of the county into districts. Barre's Sunday school population will henceforth comprise a district in itself. It is the purpose of the workers now touring county to have this organization of districts perfected by the time the county convention opens at Montpelier May 28.

Following an afternoon of helpful and inspiring conferences on the various phases of Sunday school work, in which different pastors of the city, Miss Edith M Balch of Burlington, state field seeretary, and Miss Anna Byington of Col-chester, superintendent of the elementary department of the work, contributed sev eral papers and short talks. After the business session at 7 o'clock, the con-ferences were resumed, with Rev. J. W. Barnett, pastor of the Congregational burch, leading in the devotional service. Miss Balch gave an interesting talk on "Working Together," and her remarks were followed by music and the offering. At 8 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Durfee spoke on the "Supreme Purpose of the Pable School." He presented some of the prob-lems of the Bible schools, especially those which include the adult classes, in a striking manner, and the latter part of his discourse contained many helpful suggestions.

Last Chance for Commutation of Death Sentence Is Possibility That Petition May Be Presented to Executive Council This Afternoon.

Boston, May 15.—The presence of Clarence V. T. Richeson in the deathhouse at the Charlestown state prison and the coming electrocution of two oth er prisoners within the next two weeks led Warden Bridges to-day to order the suspension of all visiting privileges in the prison for the next three weeks. Many persons have expressed a desire to be shown over the institution since the removal of Richeson there from the Charles street jail late yesterday after-

Rev. Herbert S. Johnson visited Richeson for twenty minutes to-day, and Richeson's attorney, William A. Morse, also called. The prisoner is not permitted to use a knife or fork or any implement with which he could harm himself.

Secretary Holman to Governor Foss said this afternoon that he did not know whether the petition of Richeson's counsel for commutation of sentence would be referred to the executive council this afternoon at its meeting.

Last night Richeson slept within a dozen paces of the electric chair. He was placed in the deathhouse late yesterday afternoon. He was called from his cell in the Charles street jail, handcuffed to an officer and hurried away in the jail van to the prison, where, if the order of the court is carried out, he will be executed either Monday or Tuesday morning.

Contrary to expectations, Richeson did not collapse or break down when he learned the time had come to go to the death cell. As he had submitted for days to an exhaustive and trying examination by expert alienists, some offi-cials here declared that he would not have the physical or mental strength, being of a highly nervous nature, to undergo the final step in his career calmly.

Washington county members of the Christian Endeavor society concluded a successful annual meeting in the Baptist son's cell in the jail and called out to the inmate: "Doctor, come out and take a little

IF ABUTTERS WILL ASSIST

Aldermen Favored Project at Their Meeting Last Night-Sanitary Conditions in Retail Stores Were Reported to Be Satisfactory in General,

As a result of the property committee's report to the board of aldermen at its regular meeting held last evening, the civic federation will probably be aided by the city in its undertaking to beautify the small park adjoining Elmwood cemetery next to Highland avenue. The committee's report stated that the cost to the city would be in the vicinity of $325, which sum is to be expended ed in properly fencing the area, the cost throughout the state and to erect a me- of which will mount to over $600. According to the agreement, much of the balance will be borne by the federation and by abutting property owners, who intimated to the committee that they would be willing to pay perhaps 10c per foot of the cost of fencing.

Alderman Patterson believed that something more binding in the promise of support from the abutters should be secured and in the motion to aid the federation in perfecting the appearance of the inclosure was incorporated a clause instructing the property committee to get the written agreement of the abutters to pay the 10c per foot before ordering the fencing. Although not wishing to go on record as opposing the project to be carried out at Elmwood by the city, the cemetery commissioners and the civic federation, Alderman Dawson argued that the federation had done much good, but only in the spots already favored by nature. He contended that their improvements had never extended to the tenement districts at the north end, and that the same share of its attention should be parceled out to this section as to the vicinity mentioned.

The point was made by Alderman Mc-Lead that the resting place at Elmwood was to be created for the very people who inhabit the less favored places where tenements are not broken by grass plots and pleasant outlooks. Alderman Cleaves; song, Miss Emma Dency, lection by Humperdinck, orchestra; male aimed to keep as far away as possible quartet, "The Kerry Dance." Messrs, from the cemetery. Alderman Rossi moved that the report be referred back to the property committee and a later amendment instructed the committee to go ahead and order the fence if the abutting property owners signed an agreement to pay the 10c per foot asked of them.
